

DISCLAIMER

The content on this website, including the "House of Cards" section, is provided for informational and educational purposes only and represents the opinions, analyses, and interpretations of the creators based on publicly available information, reports, and allegations from various sources. It does not constitute legal advice, professional opinion, or verified fact in all instances.

Nature of Content: Statements regarding individuals are drawn from public reports, criticisms by observers, media outlets, and official sources (e.g., U.S. sanctions, international investigations, and news articles). Where claims are unsubstantiated or based on allegations, they are presented as such (e.g., "critics claim" or "reportedly") and do not imply guilt or criminality unless explicitly stated as proven facts from reliable sources. Any references to corruption, scandals, or misconduct are opinions or summaries of public accusations and are not intended as definitive judgments.

Public Interest: This site aims to promote transparency, accountability, and discussion on public figures in Lebanon, in the interest of democratic discourse and anti-corruption efforts. All content is protected as free expression under applicable laws, including the U.S. First Amendment and international human rights standards (e.g., ECHR Article 10).

No Intent to Defame: We do not intend to harm any individual's reputation or assert unproven facts as true. If any information is inaccurate, we encourage affected parties to contact us with evidence for correction.

Verification: Readers are advised to independently verify all information from original sources. Links to references are provided where possible; absence does not imply endorsement or guarantee of completeness.

Liability Limitation: The creators, hosts, and contributors disclaim any liability for damages arising from use of this content. By accessing this site, you agree to these terms.
